

"THE ROLL OF HONOR BANK"

No other National Bank this side of Stanford, Kentucky, is a "Roll of Honor Bank" except the First National Bank, of Barbourville. There are only about nine "Roll of Honor" National Banks in the whole State of Kentucky. Our Bank is entitled to this distinction because of its large SURPLUS PROFIT FUND. It grows. It is a United States DEPOSITORY. A depository for the United States Post Office and the United States Court. A depository for the City of Barbourville and Knox County. It not only has the confidence of the Citizens, but also of the Nation, State, City and County Officers. This ought to mean something to the person who thinks and who wants to do business with a growing, strong, safe and progressive bank. We appreciate both large and small accounts.

DEATHS.

Bullock

Mrs. Annie B. Bullock, wife of G. N. Bullock, died Wednesday afternoon at 3 o'clock at her home in Gray. She had been ill for several months of pellagra. Mrs. Bullock was the widow of Hop Donaldson. She leaves a husband, one son, G. B. Donaldson, and many friends to mourn their loss, to these we extend our sympathy.

ABOUT COMPLETE

The brick work on the Christian Church will be completed this week, and it is hoped that the congregation can occupy it by November 1st.

NEW BOULEVARD

Mr. T. F. Faulkner, our enterprising townsman, has just completed a driveway to the top of Bald Hill, which is one of the finest drives in Kentucky, this road is about one and one half miles long and rises 255 feet above the valley below, the grade is so perfect that a Ford automobile goes nearly all the way up on high speed, and when descending the mountain an auto will coast 95 per cent of the distance. The road was surveyed and laid out by C. B. Parrott, our County Road Supervisor, and is a master piece of work. If all the citizens of our town would put forth a little effort, as has Mr. Faulkner, we would soon have a city of no little consequence.

A Request

I want to ask J. R. Hammons to write another article, this time on "Old Backwoods Churches and School Houses." I think his article on "old back time" was a master piece. He says he was just a strip of a boy at that time, but he made me feel like "old time religion." I have helped my mother to gather in the bark to bake the coon and potatoes. I have heard the old deer hounds come around the leading ridge with the deer for the old men. I also have been up on the mountain, after the cow. I have helped to grit the corn to make hoe-cakes to eat with the coon, potatoes and wild honey. These articles will be very interesting to the young as well as the old people of today to show them the great advantages they have as compared to the old days when we were children. So let us hear from J. R. Hammons, or one else on these good old times 50 years ago.

A Knocker's Prayer.

"Lord, please don't let this town grow. I've lived here forty years and during that time I have fought every improvement. I have knocked everything and everybody; no firm or individual has ever established a business here without my doing all that I could to put them out of business. I have used every method. Thy inspiration would suggest to injure the business. I've lied about them and would have stolen from them if I had the courage. I have done all I could to keep the town from growing; never have I spoken a good word for it, but I've knocked hard and often.

"It pains me, O Lord to see that in spite of my knocking this town is growing. Some day I fear I will be called upon to put down sidewalks in front of my property, who knows but what I may have to help keep up the streets that run by my property. This, O Lord, would be more than I could bear.

"It would cost me money, and I could not afford to put out my money, although all I have was made right here.

"Then more people might come if the town begins to grow which would cause me to lose some of my pull. I ask therefore that you keep this town at a standstill that I may continue to be the chief knocker. Amen and Amen."

FREE GRADED SCHOOL

The free graded school will begin on Monday, September 7th, with the following faculty:

H. M. Oldfield, Principal.
W. C. Faulkner, 6-7 & 8 grades.
Miss Rosa Parker, 4 & 5 grades.
Mrs. Sarah E. Hughes, 3rd grade.
Miss Bertha Land, 2nd grade.
Miss Willie Prater, 1st grade.

The arrangements and adoptions of the books and courses of study have been fixed at a four years course, but owing to the condition of the buildings, these courses will be cut to two years.

It is said that a new building will be under course of construction soon and if so other arrangements for the courses will be taken up and arranged.

A REQUEST

Our correspondents are requested to send in their matter not later than Wednesday of each week, as we cannot get these matters in when received on Thursday, or Friday morning.

HANDLE FACTORY

Mr. T. M. Minton, and his son B. B. Minton, left here Tuesday morning for Cincinnati, Ohio, where they will purchase a complete outfit for the hickory timber factory. They have signed a contract for the ground and will proceed at once to put the factory in operation. They will buy any amount of hickory, in the log or cut to dimension, they are not confined to any particular article, as some say a spoke and rim factory, but they make any and all kinds of handles, luggy shafts, breast yokes, tongues, single and double trees. They will employ anywhere from 30 to 100 men daily, they do not work much cheap labor, as the man who works for them must have some skill, but they will patiently instruct any who may want to work. They will pay good prices for timber, and will be ready to receive same soon.

Mr. Minton will move here about October 15 with his family but has not fully decided upon a house yet.

Barbourville could have many other industries if we would only let the world know what we have. Why don't you try "boosting" our old town, it helps.

MOORE-GAMBRELL

Mr. F. Moore and Miss Lillie Gambrell were among the numerous couples of matrimonially inclined visitors at Cumberland Gap yesterday. After the ceremony they returned to this city and are now receiving the best wishes and congratulations of their many friends.

BRODHEAD FAIR

We have been going to Fairs for the past 25 years, and have come to the conclusion that we know something of the Fairs, and we go you one better than that, we do know one when we see it. Brodhead is a small village in the north part of Rockcastle County, and is on the L. & N. railroad; it is situated upon a table land just over the valley thru which flows a small Creek and thru which the railroad passes, it has a bank, drug store, several dry goods and grocery stores, and restaurants enough to feed an ordinary army. They do not stop at this, they have the finest set of people to be found, they are clever and accommodating, and will do all in their power to make one feel at home.

The first day of the Fair looked as though it would be a complete failure, but about 10 o'clock the mist cleared away and the people began to come in until it looked as though it had rained people, and when they did come they sure did bring the exhibitors, and every one had a good time.

Their exhibition of live stock was just fine, and from start to finish there was not to be seen one under the influence of liquor, the officers of the Association are gentlemen, and they were well pleased with the whole affair.

The Barbourville Redmen's Band furnished the music, and we have heard that they were well pleased with that also.

If all did not have a good time we don't know why.

The Prevention of Hydrophobia

To Peace Officers, Health Officers and the People of Kentucky:—

A recent examination of dogs' heads from widely separated sections of the State shows an alarming prevalence of Hydrophobia. Under the authority conferred upon it by law, the State Board of Health hereby requests and directs all persons owning valuable dogs to keep them upon their own premises or to have them carefully muzzled, and Sheriffs, Chiefs of Police, Constables and the people generally are hereby requested and directed to destroy, as painlessly as possible, all unmuzzled dogs running at large with a view to the prevention of Hydrophobia. Failure to observe this request is punishable by fine before any Magistrate.

Through arrangements with the United States Public Health Service, the State Board of Health is enabled to give the Pasteur treatment at the Bacteriological Laboratory, Bowling Green, Kentucky, without expense, to individuals who have been bitten by rabid dogs or other animals. Dogs' heads suspected of being mad should be sent to the Laboratory, by express prepaid, and the result of the examination will be telephoned or telegraphed.

This Board takes this occasion to inform the people of Kentucky that mad stones are useless if one is really bitten by an infected animal, their use gives a false sense of security and their use is forbidden by law.

Given under our hands and the seal of the State Board of Health, this August 11, 1914.

SUIT TO TEST STATUTE FILED

THE STATE WORKMEN'S COMPENSATION LAW HAS BEEN ATTACKED.

NOT ALL EMPLOYERS COMPLY

Belief of Many That New Law is Unconstitutional and Court Decision Is Desired.

(Special Frankfort Correspondence.)

Frankfort.—The workmen's compensation act, passed by the 1914 general assembly, has been subjected to the constitutional test in a suit filed in the Franklin circuit court by the workmen's compensation board against The State Journal Co., of Frankfort, asking for a mandatory injunction to compel the company to file out and return to the board blank reports sent out by the board to the employers of labor in conformity with the act. The suit was filed by Robert Caldwell, of the attorney general's office, acting counsel for the board, which is composed of Atty. Gen. James Barnett, Commissioner of Agriculture J. W. Newman and Insurance Commissioner Matt C. Clay.

Atty. Gen. Barnett said that a number of employers of labor are refusing to comply with the provisions of the act, believing it to be unconstitutional, and that, while the board is proceeding to gather the statistics necessary to put the act in force, the members desire to be assured of its constitutionality by decision of the court of appeals before it becomes time to assess the employers for the compensation fund. The State Journal Co. has no objection to the provisions of the act, but is assuming the role of defendant to have the law tested.

Beckham Had 72,677 Votes.

Certificates of election were issued to the successful candidates in the state primary held August 1. The state election commission has canvassed the returns. The commission comprises R. L. Greene, clerk of the court of appeals and ex-officio chairman of the board, and W. S. Hager, of Owensboro, Democrats, and R. C. Stoll, of Lexington, Republican.

The official returns gave former Governor Beckham 72,677; Congressman Stanley, 65,871, and Governor McCreary, 20,257. Governor Beckham's majority over Stanley is 6,806 votes.

For the short term for United States Senator Camden received 73,797 votes. Colonel Bennett H. Young 34,303 and David H. Smith 18,399. Senator Camden led the Democratic ticket, receiving 1,120 more votes than Governor Beckham.

On the Republican ticket former Governor Wilson polled 28,311 votes, Richard Ernst 21,924, and Matt McLaughlin 2,910. Marshall Bullitt, for the short term for United States senator, received 27,013, and L. F. Fitzpatrick 10,816 votes. Burton Vance and George Jolly, on the Progressive ticket, polled 2,438 and 1,530 votes respectively.

Appeal Is Set Out.

In a proclamation issued by Acting Governor McCreary to the people of this state are requested to make generous contributions for the use of the Red Cross Society in its work in the hospitals and on the battlefields of Europe. The proclamation follows: "Whereas, a terrible war is now raging in Europe and immense numbers of men are engaged in deadly conflict by land and sea, and, suffering, and soon many more will be suffering, from wounds and illness; and as all humane people in our state must desire to do something to relieve the sick and wounded, without regard to their nationality, I now make an appeal, in the name of our state, in the name of humanity, for contributions of money from generous persons for the immediate use of the Red Cross Society in its beneficent work of charity in the hospitals and on the battlefields of Europe.

Balance to State's Credit.

The balance on hand in the different funds of the state government at the close of business July 31 were announced by State Auditor Bogworth as follows: School fund, $756,495.18; sinking fund, $12,868.42; general expense fund, $105,447.67; cash in treasury $849,074.43. The outstanding indebtedness of the state amounted to $2,541,665.96 as against $2,509,581.96 for last month.

Tobacco Company Sued.

The Burley Tobacco Company was made defendant in a suit filed by W. O. Cook, of this city, for $5,000 damages for injuries alleged to have been sustained while at work in the plant of the defendant in this city.

Distribution of Funds.

Announcement was made by the war department that out of the total of $2,000,000 annually appropriated by congress for apportionment among the various states for the purchase of supplies and ammunition under the militia law, $1,399,362 has been set aside by the secretary of war for that purpose during the fiscal year 1915. The remainder of the unallotted funds, amounting to $400,637, has been reserved for special allotment to meet any exceptional and urgent needs that may arise.

Dogs Should Be Muzzled.

The following has been issued to peace officers, health officers and the people of Kentucky: A recent examination of dogs' heads from widely separated sections of the state shows an alarming prevalence of hydrophobia. Under the authority conferred upon it by law, the state board of health hereby requests and directs all persons owning valuable dogs to keep them upon their own premises or to have them carefully muzzled and, sheriffs, chiefs of police, constables and the people generally are hereby requested and directed to destroy, as painlessly as possible, all unmuzzled dogs running at large with a view to the prevention of hydrophobia. Failure to observe this request is punishable by fine before any magistrate. Through arrangements with the United States public health service, the state board of health is enabled to give the Pasteur treatment at the Bacteriological Laboratory, Bowling Green, Ky., without expense, to individuals who have been bitten by rabid dogs or other animals.

After Territory.

At the meeting of the fiscal court at Winchester a committee was appointed to investigate Clark county's claim to about nine square miles of land now included in Fayette county's borders. The matter was brought to the attention of the court by T. G. Stuart. The committee is composed of County Attorney S. T. Davis, Col. T. G. Stuart and Magistrate J. S. Lindsay and E. B. Dooley. Col. Stuart told the court that when the survey was made making Clark county out of a part of Fayette county the line was not properly run. When the survey was made from the mouth of Boone Creek, which creek marked the boundary between the two counties, the line was run in several hundred feet, cutting off about nine square miles of land that should have been included in the Clark county, but which was given to Fayette.

May Have Demonstrator.

A farm demonstrator from the Kentucky Experiment Station at Lexington is said to be available for Franklin county, and H. K. Gayle, who is connected with the Farmers' Co-operative and Extension Department at the Experiment Station, was in Frankfort with a view to enlisting the support of prominent farmers in the plan to have a demonstrator brought here. The services of a demonstrator are declared to be of inestimable value and many counties in the state are said to be clamoring for them. Under the present laws an appropriation from the United States for farm development work amounting to $10,000 is available for Kentucky, and wherever a county will pay one-half of the expense of the demonstrator's salary the other half is paid out of the government's appropriation.

Forest Reserve.

State Forester J. E. Barton, who has just returned from a trip through Harlan and Leslie counties with a member of the government reconnaissance crew, stated that prospects are bright for the government to secure a forest reserve, which will include large sections of Clay, Leslie, Perry and Harlan counties, taking in the whole of Pine mountain, which is about 200 miles long. Following its policy in other sections where local sentiment supports it, congress then probably would pass an act declaring the reserve a federal game preserve.

Surplus of $40,000,000.

Kentucky is to make very little whisky for the season of 1914-1915. This is the understanding reached at a meeting of Kentucky distillers. As a matter of fact, each individual present notified the chairman that he proposed to produce this season 50 per cent or less of his average crop for the five seasons from 1910 to 1914, inclusive. It was estimated that perhaps 90 per cent of the state's capacity was represented at the meeting, which was an enthusiastic one.

Largest Number of Votes.

United States Senator J. N. Camden, who received the Democratic nomination for United States Senator for the short term, led the ticket in the primary. With Clinton county missing he received 73,797 votes. Former Gov. Beckham, who won the nomination for the long term, polled 72,677 votes. Camden led the ticket by 1,120. Col. Bennett H. Young polled 34,303 and David H. Smith 18,399 votes.

Resolution Adopted.

With a determination to enforce strictly the laws laid down for the conduct of saloons, the Frankfort Mutual Protective association at a recent meeting adopted a resolution pledging the efforts of the association toward law enforcement and offering a reward for information leading to a conviction for violation of the ordinances governing the sale of liquor on Sundays or election days.

Agricultural Libraries.

Agricultural libraries consisting of 150 volumes each are being sent into rural communities by Commissioner of Agriculture Newman. The libraries are placed in charge of preachers who have agreed to look after the distribution and collection of the books. Libraries have been sent to the following places: The Rev. Father Zeller, of Raywick; the Rev. W. P. Gordon, of Cadiz; the Rev. J. T. Cherry, of Jeffersontown; the Rev. Hugh O'Sullivan at Whitesville, and the Rev. James C. Rawling.

Shopkeepers Organize Clerks into Fighting Forces and All Are Enthusiastic Over Prospect of Going to War.

By HERBERT TEMPLE, European Manager of the International News Service.

London.—Shopkeepers of London now are organizing their clerks into fighting forces. Every evening in the streets of the business districts may be seen companies of shop employees, earnestly drilling to be soldiers. They are getting ready to change the yardstick for a musket and the counter for the trench. In the big department stores, where there are many employees, whole regiments have been organized. In lesser establishments, companies are being formed, and where there are small stores with only a few clerks, two or three employees are putting their men together to form a company.

Apparently, all of the clerks are enthusiastic over the possibility of going to war. They seem to take to the

It is a big and a fit thus the war is long and half the

The first but least important issue of the war is that of the British markets being cut off from certain articles such as in demand, but not absolutely necessary. Austrian rolls have already disappeared from the dinner table and the fine Hungarian flour, so much in demand for pastry has gone up 100 per cent. It is doubtful if Austria-Hungary will continue to export flour, for the wheat crop of the dual monarchy, even had there been no war, is very short this year. The eastern part of the empire, that near-

The hard wheat from Servia, Bulgaria and Roumania, also will be missing from England for a time, but happily there is no reason to fear that confectionery will disappear, for the chief London millers and those of other British cities are now making excellent pastry flour by Hungarian processes, no longer the jealously guarded secret of the mills of Budapest.

Servian exports of silk cocoons, plums, prunes, cherries and liquors already have been stopped by the war, but such things are regarded as luxuries and the British consumers are doing without them without complaint.

War Is Approved.

Through England, the people of every class regard the war with one mind. They approve of it because they believe there was no honorable way for England to stay out of the conflict. Not a man but wants to go to the front and all the people, high and low, are accepting the privations of war, slight as yet but apt to become heavy before long, with great good humor and grace.

Perhaps one of the most unexpected results of the war was the absolute ending of suffragette militancy. For years the British public had been accustomed to the depredations of the "wild women" manifested in the smashing of windows, crusades on parliament, burning of houses, mutilation of pictures and explosion of bombs. One of the first things King George did after England declared war, was to pardon unconditionally all the suffragette prisoners who are in the various jails for militant offenses. The militants reciprocated immediately by declaring a cessation of their violent campaign for ballot. The suffragette organization volunteered to take the work of providing for the women and children made dependent by the war, and some of a volunteered to act as nurses at front.

3 SCENES IN AUSTRIA

ago Girl Gives a Vivid Picture of Experiences at Seat of War.

War scenes in Austria are vividly pictured in a letter, ripped open and dated by military censors, which received from a Chicago girl, Miss M. S. Franke, who is touring Europe as companion to Miss Fanny M. sister of Levy Mayer, the attorney.

"Wonder if this letter will ever reach you," she says in her closing graph. "I am afraid it won't, as it is in such a terrible condition here that I hardly know what to do."

But for the time being I am safe, never in my life experienced excitement. About six o'clock on 27, while I was on my way back to the hotel to join Miss Mayer, our car was held up twice by hundreds of soldiers. At every railroad station soldiers were telling their wives and friends good-bye. It was such a sad sight.

"Thousands of Americans are feeling for us," she says, "and Miss Mayer and I endeavor to get into Germany immediately. We are in a terrible hurry to get back to America before things get worse—if indeed they could get worse."

... correspondent who visited at Vise and Liege writes:

"Not far from the little Dutch frontier village of Meech I passed the remains of a big German camp. Dead soldiers, civilians, horses, wagons, cars, automobiles and bicycles lay in confusion.

"Germans and Belgians lay side by side—evidence that they were fighting man to man. Houses had been sacked because the soldiers wished to avenge themselves on civilians who fired upon them from windows."

GERMAN ALLIANCE

APPEALS TO UNCLE SAM TO USE HIS GOOD OFFICE AND INFLUENCE.

In Attempt to Prevent Japan Going to War With Germany—Appeal Includes President and Congress.

Western Newspaper Union News Service.

Philadelphia, Penn.—One hundred thousand Americans of German descent in this city, comprising the German-American Alliance, forwarded an appeal to Washington for the United States government to use its good offices to prevent Japan going to war with Germany. The appeal was sent by telegram to President Wilson, Vice President Marshall and Speaker Clark. The appeal, in part, follows:

"The National German Alliance stands on record as favoring universal peace. As American citizens of German birth and extraction, we deplore the awful conflict in Europe, hoping for a speedy and honorable peace, and that this war may be the end of all war and the beginning of world-wide disarmament. We thank the President of the United States for offering his good offices to the warring nations, and we now appeal to the President and to Congress to plead with the government of Japan, through her Ambassador in Washington, in the name of humanity, civilization and universal peace, to refrain from carrying the war into the far East by demanding that Germany abandon all her commercial and political interests in China.

"Instead of throwing the firebrand of war into the far East, Japan should be fair and submit any grievances she has against Germany, or against any other nation, to The Hague Peace Tribunal, where, no doubt, other questions of the present conflict will be submitted. This would assure that all nations of which the quoted paragraph of the Anglo-Japanese treaty speaks, including China, would have a voice in the matter.

ABOUT COLD STORAGE PRODUCTS

Chicago, Ill.—State and Federal authorities joined hands for the prosecution under Federal statutes of food market operators may be charged with criminal responsibility for the oppressive prices. That turn in the many-sided inquiry became known when a conference between James H. Wilkerson, United States Attorney, and Mackay Hayne, State's Attorney, was held. Their conference came on the heels of reports from the State's Attorney investigators who, for the last week, had been secretly at work in the stockyards. Hayne had those reports when he met Wilkerson.

CAPTURE TOWN OF NACO.

Naco, Sonora, Mexico.—Armed men representing Governor Jose M. Mayton captured this town without bloodshed, but missed what they came for, the public funds, which the Governor recently demanded of Constitutional officials friendly to Colonel Calles and the Carranza regime. M. M. Martinez, the Mexican collector of customs, fled with the money to the American side. The Maytorana men went back to Cananea after having dismantled the Calles men.

INTERNATIONAL SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

(By E. O. BRILLIEN, Director of Evening Department, The Moody Bible Institute, Chicago.)

LESSON FOR AUGUST 23

THE WEDDING FEAST.

LESSON TEXT—Matt. 22:1-14. GOLDEN TEXT—"O Jerusalem, Jerusalem, that killest the prophets, and stonest them that are sent unto her, how often would I have gathered thy children together, even as a hen gathereth her own brood under wings, and ye would not." Luke 13:34 R. V.

To catch the full significance of this parable which is alone recorded by Matthew we need to be more or less familiar with the Jewish pride of race and their feeling of superiority over all "heathen" or outsiders, and the history of their treatment of God's representatives, the prophets.

Following upon the parable referred to in our last lesson the Pharisees perceived that Jesus spake of them and they sought to arrest him (ch. 21:46).

In this lesson the figure of the kingdom is changed from a vineyard to a feast.

Relation to His People.

I. The King's Invitation Rejected, vv. 1-7. The change of figure just referred to suggests not alone an occasion of festal joy (Luke 14:16), but also Christ's relation to his people, which is that of a husband to his wife (he being the son referred to, see I Cor. 11:12; Eph. 5:24-32; John 3:29). These Jewish leaders and their nation were first to be invited to the marriage. This had been done by the prophets of old and later by John the Baptist. Under this figure of a marriage our Lord speaks of three different invitations. The first one was received with indifference, but indifference never removes responsibility. The second invitation was received with hostility. Nothing more fully reveals the foolishness and hardness of the human heart than the way in which men treat the gracious invitations of God's love.

Wonderful indeed is the forbearance of God. The sin of rejecting the cross, God's offer of grace, is immeasurably greater than that incurred by those Jews who rejected the "Man of Galilee."

Question of Worthiness.

II. The King's Invitation Accepted, vv. 8-10. Those invited had judged themselves "not worthy." Now go to the parable of the ways where people congregate and "gather them in." Our worthiness is in that we accept, and if we reject we are "not worthy." This command to go outside was a prophecy of the time when the Gentiles should likewise be "partakers of grace."

Those who finally accepted the king's invitation were both good and bad (v. 10), but the act of acceptance was not an assurance of position as we can see from the last part of the parable. It is sad to think of the many servants of the king who have neglected his command thus to go forth and recruit the banquet feast. Finally (v. 10) we read that "the wedding was filled." Heaven will not be an empty place, Rev. 7:9-14.

III. The Unprepared Guest, vv. 11-14. Every guest was scrutinized by the king. It was a strange sight to see one who had neglected to avail himself of the garment freely provided in which to appear on such an occasion. This robe is symbolical of the robe of righteousness with which God will clothe all who accept his invitation, Isa. 61:10; Rev. 19:7, 8; Eph. 4:24; Rom. 13:14. For this man to present himself clothed in his own garment was to insult the king, so our own righteousness is as "filthy rags" in his sight, Isa. 64:6; Phil. 3:9 R. V. When questioned about this act of insolence the guest was "speechless." So likewise will all unbelievers stand one day before the great king.

The Teaching of this parable emphasizes our privileges in the kingdom of God. A full realization of that kingdom means joy, gladness and perfect satisfaction. On a previous occasion Jesus gave up the parable of the Great Supper which so much resembles this. Both of these parables have to do with the attitude of men to the Gospel invitation. There is the further emphasis upon the nature of the answer of men to this invitation. The first is that of men who are blind to the glory and beauty of that which is offered to them, though their refusal was not final. Men, still blind, treat this invitation contemptuously and turn to their own interests, seeking satisfaction, while others shamefully treat the king's messengers. This treatment is followed by swift judgment. Once more, the invitation and a mixed company are gathered, some with worthy and some with unworthy motives.

The Master's final words (v. 14) emphasize service and responsibility. The call was an open, general universal one. Those chosen were not only those who came but those who accepted the conditions laid down. The indifferent, or hostile, and those who accepted unworthily were rejected.

The Golden Text reveals the heart of the Lord. He deals in sure judgment; still his purpose and desire is to protect and to gather the children safe from all harm. The doom of the city was pronounced upon it as the result of its refusal to accept this his purpose.

FARM FACTS.

Those who till the soil are the chosen people of God.

Farming is as old as the human race and is yet in its infancy.

Success is bound to come to the farmer who plans while he plows.

No civilization has ever advanced beyond its agricultural development.

No farmer is successful who thinks more of his barn than he does of his home.

The most beautiful fact in the farmer's work is that everything he plants is a lesson in faith.

The development of the farmer himself must precede the full development of the ground he tills.

The best farmer does not bother about getting ahead of his neighbor; his great business is to get ahead of himself.

We must give to the people who live on the farm the same educational advantages for their children as those of the cities enjoy.

The country clergy is an agency of much potentiality because the rural life movement is religious as well as industrial and social.

There should be a social and an industrial survey of every community. The pastor, the teacher and the school and church officials are they who should make such a survey.

In a recent survey of a community in New England, the average annual income of 154 farmers who had a common school education was $229, while the average net income of 122 farmers of the same locality with a high school education was $482 annually. This was worth to each farmer who possessed it $255 each year.

Precaution.

During the preparation for battle Pat emerged from his tent wearing his uniform blind side before. This soon attracted the attention of his superior officer, who demanded an explanation. Pat scratched his head and seemed loath to comply, but finally replied, with a sheepish grin: "Well, begorra, Oi thot if Oi wore it this way, thin when Oi had to retreat Oi wouldn't get shot in the back." —Life.

Original Suggestion.

A very pretty way of renewing old furniture in a child's room is to paint it with robin's egg blue enamel. When dry stick on underneath each keyhole in drawers of dresser or chiffonier very small pink-tinted designs of roses, cups (which one finds on old valentines, postals, etc.) and when well stuck on in place give them a light coat of shellac. The effect is very pretty.

Hereditry.

Who knows what seeds each man living on earth leaves behind him, which are only destined to come up after his death? Who can say by what mysterious bond a man's fate is bound up with his children's, his descendants', how his yearnings are reflected in them, and how they are punished for his errors?—Ivan Turgenev.

Judgment in Public Affairs.

Judgment is a possession of an enormous value to a nation, and in proportion as it contains man of judgment, in direct proportion will that nation prosper. What is it that I mean by judgment in public affairs? I mean the capacity for taking a large, calm, and unbiased view.—Lord Rosebery.

President Wilson Issues An Earnest Appeal to the American People

JAPANESE ULTIMATUM IS RECEIVED IN BERLIN

Citizens of United States Urged to Remain Neutral in European Conflict

American Ambassador to Germany is Requested to Look After Japan's Interests—Emperor William Sends Long Message and Expresses Appreciation to President Wilson

WAR IN BRIEF

The French officially report that the Germans have abandoned Sarrebourg.

Liege forts are said to have fallen.

French troops are in contact with the Germans, but there is no important engagement to report.

A statement is issued by the British Official Press Bureau to the effect that desultory fighting has taken place between the British patrolling squadrons and flotillas and German reconnoitering cruisers.

There are rumors of a naval engagement about 100 miles off Harwich, in the North sea.

French commander-in-chief personally reports French progress in Upper Alsace, and declares French troops have occupied all regions in Lorraine.

One American corps has been organized in Paris and several American aviators have offered their aeroplanes.

German incursion toward Brussels has been definitely stopped.

A semi-official news bureau at Berlin claims minor victories for German troops in Alsace.

President Wilson received from the Kaiser autographed message, in which the emperor explains and defends Germany's position on the war.

Sir Edward Grey has sent assurances to Secretary Bryan that Japan's action against Germany need cause no apprehension in the United States.

Western Newspaper Union News Service.

Attentions.—A big battle between the Austrians and the Serbians ended in a great victory for the latter. There was fierce fighting all along the lines from Planina to Izeo Shabatz. The Austrian losses are estimated at thousands killed, while thousands were wounded. Fourteen guns and large quantities of ammunition were abandoned during the retreat across the Danube. Three regiments were cut up as they fled in great disorder toward Leznitz and Losnitz.

Washington.—The earnest determination of the United States government to keep this country from becoming involved in any way in the European war and its controversies was manifested in several ways.

President Wilson issued an appeal, addressed to the American people, calling on them to refrain from any expression or act that might reveal the slightest partisanship toward the nations in conflict. Leaders in congress of all parties voiced similar views. For nearly three hours the president and his cabinet wrestled with the vexed cable-wireless censorship situation, striving to reach a decision equitable to all concerned.

Official information came from Berlin that the Japanese ultimatum had been delivered to the German government, and it was intimated in the diplomatic dispatches that war between Japan and Germany was not unlikely. The Japanese minister at Berlin, apparently foreseeing such an eventuality, asked Ambassador Gerard to be prepared to take over Japanese interests in Germany.

The president received from Emperor William a long message, transmitted through Ambassador Gerard, the contents of which were guarded closely but which, it was learned, expressed the grateful appreciation of Germany for the tender of good offices made by the United States.

The German Emperor, in addition, is said to have taken occasion to point out at length the causes of the present war, and argued, it is understood, that at the very time he was trying to mediate between Austria and Serbia the Russian mobilization began. His statement is said to follow the lines of previous official utterances from Berlin. It was this message Emperor William wrote while sitting with Ambassador Gerard in the picturesque garden in the midst of his war maps.

White house officials denied the message contained any protest concerning the attitude of the American press toward Germany. It was confined entirely to a statement of the German Emperor's position. Officials admitted that there was nothing in it which could be construed as an indication of whether or not the emperor would at any future time accept the tender of good offices.

Washington.—Japan's ultimatum to Germany will not be protested by the United States. President Wilson said he believed Japan's declaration that Kiao Chow would eventually be returned to China is made in good faith and indicated that the United States will take a passive position concerning the events in the Orient.

Secretary Bryan flatly declined to discuss Japan's move, but it is known that the Japanese government under the Root-Takahira agreement in 1905 sounded the United States before declaring its position in regard to Germany.

On November 30, 1908, Secretary of State Root, on behalf of the United States, and Ambassador Takahira, representing Japan, exchanged notes avowing the aim, policy and intention of each government toward the Far East, the exchange being designed to strengthen the relations of friendship and to preserve the general peace. The agreement was as follows:

"It is the wish of the two governments to encourage the free and peaceful development of their commerce on the Pacific Ocean. The policy of both governments, uninfluenced by any aggressive tendencies, is directed to the maintenance of the existing status quo in the region above mentioned (outlying insular possessions in the region of the Pacific Ocean) and to the defense of the principle of equal opportunity for commerce and industry in China."

Despite the administration's acquiescence, there is an uneasy feeling that Japan has taken sharp advantage of the situation created by the European war, and it is feared the move against Germany may be followed by other acts more distasteful to this country. It is reported that the portion of Japan's ultimatum which carried the assurance that Kiao Chow would be eventually restored to China was incorporated at the suggestion of the American government.

MILLIONAIRE AS A VOLUNTEER.

Philadelphia.—J. Armstrong Drexel, son of Colonel and Mrs. Anthony J. Drexel, of Philadelphia and Paris, multi-millionaire and member of one of America's most aristocratic families, was the first to be accepted as a volunteer for the French infantry, according to a dispatch from Paris.

Drexel is a grandson of Anthony J. Drexel, of the famous banking house of Drexel & Co. He is a brother of Anthony J. Drexel, Jr., who married Marjorie Gwynne Gould. Upon the death of his grandfather young Drexel inherited a fortune of $1,000,000, and is worth several times that now.

LORRAINE ELUDES HER ENEMY

Paris.—The French liner La Lorraine reached Havre after an exciting voyage from New York, during which it narrowly escaped capture by German cruisers in the Atlantic ship lanes. On board were 450 French reservists who were accorded an enthusiastic reception. During the voyage La Lorraine first encountered the German cruiser Dresden. Eluding her she succeeded later in intercepting wireless messages passing between the German cruisers Strassburg and Karlsruhe, who were waiting for her, but she managed to escape both by the help of the fog.

WILL CALL ON PANKHURST

London.—Lady Cook has launched a stirring campaign to raise armies of English women trained for the army like regular soldiers and ready to fight and die for their country. Lady Cook says: "My plan is to have regiments of women wearing khaki uniforms just like men, with the possible addition of knee-length skirts. I expect 150,000 women to be armed, drilled and organized into armies in three months."

GEN. VILLA MAY AGAIN REVOLT

ALL FACTIONS IN MEXICO MAY SEEK TO TAKE ADVANTAGE OF THE EUROPEAN WAR.

CABINET FAVORS MORE TROOPS

State Department Using Its Influence To Induce Gen. Villa To Accept Conditions as They Are.

Washington.—Information as to the gravity in Mexico has been obtained by leaders of congress when they asked cabinet members about the possibility of adjournment. They were told that adjournment does not depend upon the European situation so much as conditions in Mexico and the outlook south of the border is worse now than it has been for a long time.

According to an administration leader "they have had bad news." It is understood that this news is to the effect that the various factions in Mexico, realizing that Germany, France and England are too much engaged to participate diplomatically or financially in Mexico's affairs, and believing that the activities of Japan will absorb the attention of the United States, intend to take advantage of what they consider their opportunity.

The administration has information that leads it to believe that Villa intends to precipitate another civil war and endeavor to overthrow the Carranza government. The state department and the white house denied that this government has made any threats to Villa with a view of bringing about an adjustment of his differences with the Carranza government, but the state department admitted it was using its influence to induce Villa to accept conditions as they are and contribute to the ultimate pacification of Mexico.

In order to lay the case before Villa, the secretary of war instructed George Carothers, of the department, to go to Chihuahua and confer with the general.

BURDEN IMPOSED BY WAR

Continued Suspension of Exports and Inability to Sell on Exchange.

New York.—Trade conditions during the past week were again very much unsettled by the war in Europe, and while attempts were being made to adjust conditions to circumstances, operators in almost every line were being forced to combat with such unusual conditions that they were bewildered and unable to forestall probable developments. The continued suspension of exports and the inability to sell exchange on London was a great drawback to the export trade. Export leaders, however, are extremely confident that material improvement in the shipping conditions will be realized with the week. Railroad traffic authorities also express confidence that some relief is in sight, which may afford the basis for the withdrawal by the trunk line railroads of their instructions to agents at interior points to accept freight consigned for foreign ports only on domestic bills of lading. If such improvement takes place the railroads will undoubtedly resume their acceptance of shipments for export on through bills of lading, thus lifting, in a practical sense, the virtual embargo which has been enforced by the carriers for the past few days against merchandise destined for foreign ports.

AMERICANS IN NEW YORK

Members of Great Army of Americans Trapped in War-Smitten Europe.

New York.—Two thousand and thirty-nine men, women and children, so glad to see the shores of Manhattan Island that they wept, cheered and kissed one another, arrived at quarantine on the New Amsterdam.

All of them were members of the great army of Americans trapped in war-smitten Europe, and all of them were ready to take an oath never again to leave the shelter of the Stars and Stripes. Three hundred and fifty miles out the Amsterdam was stopped by the British cruiser Essex, which fired two blank shots to frighten the liner into halting. The New Amsterdam, fearing that she was in danger of capture, took to her heels, but the Essex had learned that the liner was owned by a neutral power and slowed down.

The New Amsterdam left Rotterdam on August 8. She threaded her way through the mines of the English channel and past the terrible-like destroyers, and touched in at Plymouth. From there she ploughed westward at top speed, for she was overcrowded and a stoppage might have meant curtailed rations.

BETTER BUSINESS FEELING ARISES

WHEN RESUMPTION OF OUR EXPORT SHIPMENTS ARE NOTED IN NEW YORK.

STEEL PRODUCTS ADVANCED

Freight Traffic Managers Can See Light Ahead—American Ships Will Sail To Europe.

New York.—Export operations to important European ports, such as Liverpool and other points in the United Kingdom, have begun to resume on a partial basis, which gave every appearance of soon becoming definite service, subject to changes which may be ordered to conform with conditions as they arise from time to time during the naval operations of the belligerent powers of Europe.

That part of Great Britain's merchant fleet which has successfully evaded capture on the high seas during the past two weeks while carrying merchandise and passengers to and from English ports to this country, in the opinion of a prominent shipping agent in this city, will soon be adequately supplemented by a fleet of ships flying the American flag after being transferred to American ownership, and the many other neutral lines running out of this port are expected to renew definite sailings.

The better feeling about the resumption of a substantial portion of our trade with Europe within a short time is not confined to the steamship interests, but is likewise prevalent among the export freight traffic managers of the trunk line railroads running into this city.

GOLD RESERVE IN FAVOR

Advantages to United States in Proposed Plan Discussed by Holland.

New York.—Although the announcement that the Bank of England would utilize Canada as a basis for the establishment of a heavy gold reserve was at first received with a good deal of astonishment in the financial district of this city, nevertheless there are some reasons for inferring that a confidential suggestion that a step of that kind might be expedient was sent from New York to London a few days ago.

That the Bank of England decided to build up a gold reserve at Ottawa was a decision not entirely unexpected in this city. There had been negotiations with American bankers with intent to establish in New York or with representatives of New York bankers in London a large amount of credit based upon gold. France took action at that time, and its influence was very salutary. While negotiations were pending there came hints that the governors of the Bank of England had under consideration another proposition, and that they were looking toward Canada.

THREE THEATERS OF WAR

One East, One in West and One in the South.

London.—Whether the great war now devastating all Europe is destined to last for years, as Napoleon predicted, or only for a matter of months, the military operations on land between England, France, Belgium, Russia, Serbia and Montenegro on one side, and Germany and Austria-Hungary on the other, will take place in three "theaters of war," viz: the western "theater" where England, France and Belgium have met the hordes of Germany, the eastern "theater" where Russia, Austria and Germany have already met in skirmishes, and the southern "theater," where up to now only the Serbians and Austrians have been engaged, but where Russia will certainly take a hand.

ACTIVITIES OF THE JAPANESE.

London.—The British official news bureau issued the following statement: "Great Britain and Japan, having been in communication with each other, are of the opinion that it is necessary for each to take action to protect the general interests in the far East contemplated by the Anglo-Japanese alliance, keeping especially in view the independence and integrity of China as provided for in that agreement."

"It is understood that the action of Japan will not extend to the Pacific beyond the China seas, except as may be necessary to protect Japanese shipping lines in the Pacific, nor in Asiatic waters westward of the China seas or in foreign territories except territory in German occupation on the continent of Asia."

OVER 837,000,000 PEOPLE ARE AT WAR

Number of Those Living at Peace Is 154,000,000 Less, and of These More Than 67,000,000, the Japanese, May Yet Become Involved

New York.—The world has fifty-three independent governments or nations ruling themselves. Of these eight are at war. Their population is 837,417,000. The forty-five nations at peace have a population of 682,733,000. The world contains today 1,540,854,000 more people involved in war than living at peace. The countries at war and their populations follow:

British Empire	435,000,000
Russian Empire	166,250,000
France and Colonies	93,850,000
Germany and Colonies	79,945,000
Austria-Hungary	51,840,000
Belgium	7,432,000
Serbia	4,000,000
Montenegro	500,000

Total 837,417,000

Should Japan become embroiled, as now seem likely, 67,142,000 additional people will be affected.

The emperor of Japan sent a note over to the Kaiser of Germany to come over and take his canoe out of his creek or he would blow 'em up, and this little man with his eyes out the wrong way of the leather knows what he is talking about too.

GOOD "LAME DUCK" CROP

Apropos of the talk about general crop production, indications are that the forthcoming Democratic "lame duck" crop will be one of the largest in years. While no statistics have as yet been given out from the Democratic cloak room of the House of Representatives, general reports point to the belief that the number of Democratic "lame ducks" after the fall elections will exceed the number of offices which President Wilson may have to bestow on those who will have gone down to defeat while carrying his banner in their own home districts. More and more Democratic Congressmen are "torn with conflicting emotions" in their final attempt to please the President and please their constituents at the same time.

WARREN (By Mutt)

"Coonie" and "Mutt" spent Sunday in Artemus.

Mrs. W. W. Sneed spent Friday at Barbourville with her folks.

Charles P. Roney has opened up a cholor's Hall at Trosper, where he has charge of the operations for Geo. L. Carter Co. Look out, I give you warning.

Edgar I. Denton, who has had a large butcher shop, has resigned and will leave the first of Sept. Bristol to take charge of the Meat Market for his uncle, "Fletcher" has made many friends in Warren and it is with deep regret we see him leave our midst.

Walker G. Martin has resigned as manager for the Carter Coal Company. Mr. Martin has had charge of the store here for five years and was one of the most popular fellows we ever met and it is genuine regret that we make announcement. Walker has a faithful employee for our party for the last fourteen years, has seen many of the boys and go, as such is the way you are working for a big operation, and he regrets to leave, but his object in resigning is to go into business for himself and wherever he may locate he will have the sincere wishes of the entire Camp that he may be successful. Mr. and Mrs. Martin will not leave until the first of September. Mrs. Martin, who has been generous with her pleasant hospitality, will leave a vacancy that will be hard to fill.

HUSBAND RESCUED DESPAIRING WIFE

After Four Years of Discouraging Conditions, Mrs. Bullock Gave Up in Despair. Husband Came to Rescue.

Claton, Ky.—In an interesting letter from this place, Mrs. Bettie Bullock writes as follows: "I suffered for four years, with womanly troubles, and during this time, I could only sit up for a little while, and could not walk anywhere at all. At times, I would have severe pains in my left side.

The doctor was called in, and his treatment relieved me for a while, but I was soon confined to my bed again. After that, nothing seemed to do me any good; I had gotten so weak I could not stand, and I gave up in despair.

At last, my husband got me a bottle of Cardui, the woman's tonic, and I commenced taking it. From the very first dose, I could tell it was helping me: I can now walk two miles without tiring me, and am doing my work."

If you are all run down from womanly troubles, don't give up in despair. Try Cardui, the woman's tonic. It has helped more than a million women, in its 50 years of wonderful success, and should surely help you, too. Your druggist has sold Cardui for years. He knows what it will do. Ask him. He will recommend it. Begin taking Cardui today.

HAPPY MOTHERHOOD

The happiness of motherhood is often overlooked because the mother's strength is equal to her cares, while her usefulness is neglected by her own health. It is a duty of husband or friend to see that she gets the pure medicinal nourishment in Scott's Emulsion, which is not a drug or stimulant but nature's concentrated oil-food tonic to enrich and strengthen the blood, strengthen the nerves and appetite. Physicians everywhere praise the Scott's Emulsion for overwork, nervous, tired women; it builds up and holds at their strength. Get Scott's at your nearest drug store.

The members of the Redmen's Band played for the Broadhead Fair last week and it is rumored that Brodhead had some music too.

Kentuckians Swiftly Relieved of Stomach Ills

By MAYR Remedy; First Dose of Wonderful Treatment Shows Results After Years of Suffering.

Many Kentuckians have found swift relief from disorders of the stomach and intestinal tract by the use of Mayr's Wonderful Stomach Remedy.

The first dose give results. It is not a long treatment. Here are statements taken from the letters of two Kentucky people who have used the remedy:

W. A. CLARKE, Central City, Ky.—"The medicine has done my wife a world of good and she has been suffering with stomach trouble for years."

MRS. BELLE HAWKINS, Eminence, Ky.—"I have taken all of the medicine. I don't think I need any now, as I think I am well. I never felt better in my life."

Thousands of the country come thousands of just such letters. This wonderful remedy shows results, safety, and with the first dose.

Mayr's Wonderful Stomach Remedy clears the digestive tract of unneeded accretions and removes poisonous matter. It brings swift relief to sufferers from ailments of the stomach, liver and bowels. Many declare it has saved them from dangerous operations and many are sure it has saved their lives.

Because of the remarkable success of this remedy there are many imitations, so be cautious. Be sure it's Mayr's. Get it from Herndon Drug Co. (Retail) Drug Store and ask about the wonderful results it has been accomplishing—or send to Geo. H. Mayr, Mfr. Chemist, 151-153 Whiting Street, Chicago, Ill.; for free book on stomach ailments and many grateful letters from people who have been restored. Any druggist can tell you its wonderful results.—Advt.

MANY RUINED LIVES

Hundreds can point to the use of calomel as the cause of physical decay. Its strenuous effects upon liver, kidneys and even the heart are known to every practicing physician.

Medical science has found a vegetable compound that eliminates the poisons from the liver and accumulations from the bowels in a safer and safer way than does calomel and leaves no ill after effects.

This remedy in the form of GRIGSBY'S LIVER-LAX is a proven success. It is for sale in 50c and $1 bottles by any Druggist, who guarantees to refund purchase price if you want it. It is always protected by the likeness of L. K. Grigsby.—Advt.

DON'T DELAY

Some Barbourville People Have Learned That Neglect is Dangerous.

The slightest symptom of kidney trouble is far too serious to be overlooked. It's the small, neglected troubles that so often lead to serious kidney ailments. That pain in the "small" of your back; that urinary irregularity; those headaches and dizzy spells; that weak, weary, worn-out feeling, may be nature's warning of kidney weakness. Why risk your life by neglecting these symptoms? Reach the cause of the trouble while there yet is time—begin treating your kidneys at once with a tried and proven kidney remedy. No need to experiment—Doan's Kidney Pills have been successfully used in thousands of cases of kidney trouble for over 50 years. Doan's Kidney Pills are used and recommended throughout the civilized world. Convincing testimony follows:

Mrs. Pattence Hammon, London, Ky., says: "Some days my back was so bad I could hardly do my housework. I was also very dizzy at times and had severe headaches. When I had taken Doan's Kidney Pills about six weeks, I was cured. I can recommend this remedy to anyone who has kidney trouble, for I know from experience that it is good."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50c. Doan's Kidney Pills, Buffalo, New York, sole agents for the United States. Remember the name—Doan's—and take no other.—(Advertisement)

GLIMPSE OF MARVELS TO BE SEEN AT THE HUGE PANAMA-PACIFIC INTERNATIONAL EXPOSITION IN SAN FRANCISCO IN 1915

Copyright, 1914, by Panama-Pacific International Exposition Co.

The photograph was taken in June.

THE TROPICAL SOUTH GARDENS OF THE GREAT PANAMA-PACIFIC INTERNATIONAL EXPOSITION AT SAN FRANCISCO

This panorama reveals some of the brilliant architecture of the great Exposition which will open on Feb. 20, 1915. On the left is the colossal glass dome of the beautiful Palace of Horticulture, rising almost 200 feet and more than 150 feet in diameter. On the right is the steel framing of the great Tower of Jewels, which will be 435 feet in height. In the foreground ornamental palms and shrubs from distant corners of the globe are being planted as a new home in California.

Whole World Is Planning to Visit the Greatest of Universal Expositions at Which Uncle Sam Will Celebrate the Opening of the Panama Canal.

THROUGHOUT the world millions of people are planning to visit the greatest of universal expositions next year in San Francisco. Railway and steamship agents are planning low round trip rates, with private car routing never before enjoyed.

And while millions are preparing to visit the vast Exposition, which opens on Feb. 20, 1915, preparations for the Exposition itself are far advanced, and it has attained a stage of development unequalled by any universal celebration in the history of the world. The vast exhibit palaces are completed, and the installation of the world's marvels has begun. This unparalleled progress is not confined to the huge exhibit section, for the state and foreign sites and the great concession area, "the Zone," are being crowned by completed structures that leave no doubt as to the preparation made for this magnificent Exposition.

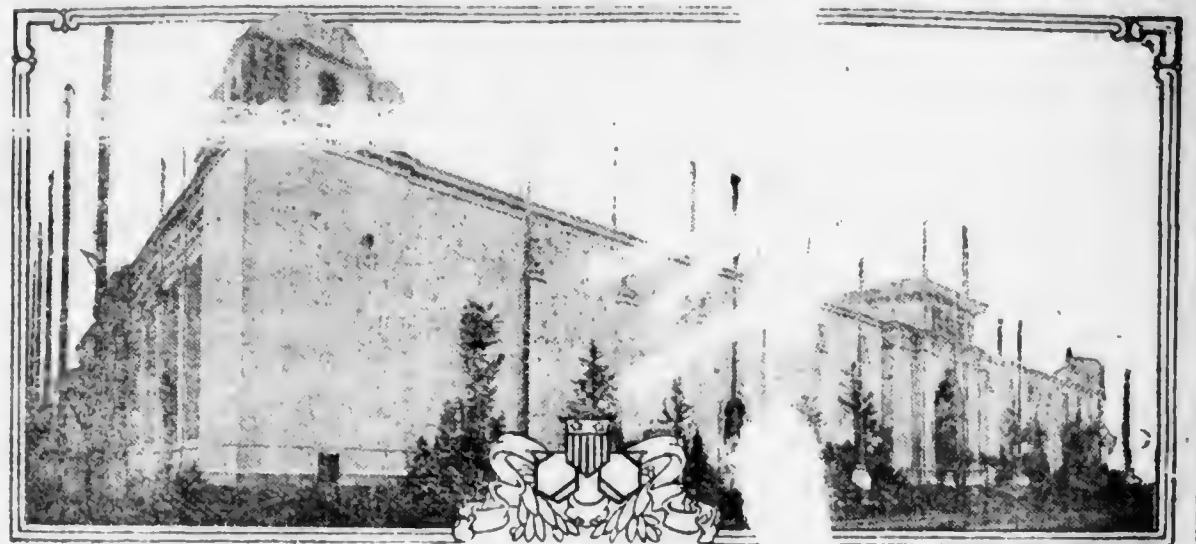

The coming Exposition offers greater spectacles, greater beauty, wider education and more captivating entertainment than any predecessor, and instead of following precedents it has shattered them at every turn and has adopted improvements on old plans that will make it a typical and really modern Exposition.

Thirty-six foreign nations are participating, and the amounts appropriated run from the hundreds of thousands to the $1,500,000 of China, and the $1,300,000 of Argentina. The states have not lagged in accepting the invitation to have their part in the glory of celebrating the completion of the Panama canal, and thirty-nine will be represented if the list remains as it stands. New York tops this list with $1,000,000.

Contests will be offered such as have been seen in no other great assembly of humanity, and a few of the many that are drawing the visitors are: The around the world aeroplane race for $300,000 in prizes, the New York to San Francisco motorboat race for $10,000, two harness horse racing meets for $227,000 in purses, yachting events for cups offered by King George V. of England and President Woodrow Wilson, the first world's polo tournament, a world's series baseball game and championships in every line of athletic sports.

No phase of the Exposition is being neglected, and the railroads are doing their part by giving unprecedented rates with a limit of ninety days and every opportunity to see the wonders of the United States by special routing and side trips.

Portal In South Wall of Palace of Education, Panama-Pacific Exposition, San Francisco, 1915

Copyright, 1914, by Panama-Pacific International Exposition Co.

THE doorway shown is one of the lesser portals of this palace and overlooks the South Gardens and the southern end of the Fine Arts Lagoon. In influence the portal is early Italian renaissance. The twisted fluted Roman columns have been given an eastern flavor by the application of contrasting colors in alternation, applied under the direction of Jules Guerlin, director of color of the Exposition. The portal is over thirty feet in height. The outer wall of the palace is sixty-five feet high.

Beautiful Date Palm at the Panama-Pacific International Exposition, San Francisco, 1915

Copyright, 1914, by Panama-Pacific International Exposition Co.

THIS beautiful date palm stands before the southern facade of the great Palace of Machinery. Through the planting of rare and beautiful shrubs and trees from all parts of the world the Exposition grounds have assumed the appearance of a semitropical paradise.

South Portal to Palace of Food Products, Panama-Pacific International Exposition, San Francisco, 1915

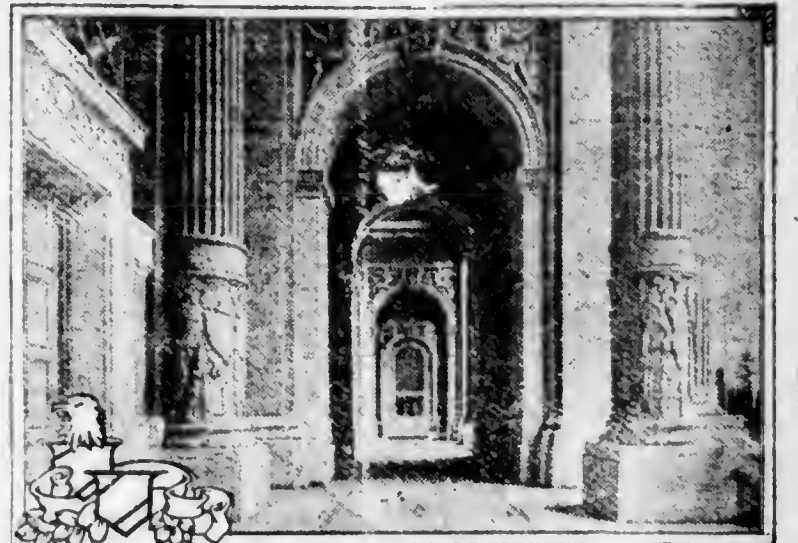

Copyright, 1914, by Panama-Pacific International Exposition Co.

THIS portal is probably the most magnificent of any of the main group of exhibit palaces. The portal is Italian renaissance in form and treatment, but the archway and the ornamentation is of more recent origin. The photograph gives a partial view of the great dimensions of this portal, which is sixty-six feet in height. The top of the ornamentation surmounting the arch. The eagles above the entrance of the portal are six feet in height. The Exposition palaces are constructed of gray ash cream plaster in imitation of Travertine marble.

HANDSOME BOOK ON PANAMA-PACIFIC INTERNATIONAL EXPOSITION AND PANAMA CANAL REGIONS MAILED TO ALL INQUIRERS FREE OF CHARGE.

A HANDSOME book of sixty pages, illustrated with numerous and giving detailed descriptions of the Panama-Pacific International Exposition to be held in San Francisco from Feb. 20 until Dec. 4, 1915, and of the Panama canal and the regions around it, will be mailed by the Panama-Pacific International Exposition to all who apply for it. The booklet is intended as a guide to prospective visitors and will also contain information of interest to the general public. The book is published by the Bureau of Publications, Panama-Pacific International Exposition, Exposition Building, San Francisco, California.

Main Entrance to Palace of Machinery at Panama-Pacific International Exposition, 1915

Copyright, 1914, by Panama-Pacific International Exposition Co.

THE photographer was stationed at the most northern of the three arched portals constituting the main western entrance to the palace and turned his camera to the north. The huge columns adorning this entrance are of imitation Siena and are in warm contrast with the creamish gray of the "Travertine" plaster of which the walls are composed. The friezes at the base of the columns and the spandrels above the archways of the vestibule are the work of the sculptor Luigi Patlan. In architectural style the Palace of Machinery is early Roman. The architect is Clarence R. Ward of San Francisco.

THIS photograph shows the great western portal or entrance way of the huge Palace of Food Products. The half dome is known as the Half Dome of Vigor and is 115 feet in height. Brilliant, riotous colors are employed in the mosaic in the vault of the half dome, which was designed by Jules Guerlin, America's most celebrated decorative artist.

OF MORE IMPORTANCE TO THE GENERAL EFFECT THAN MOST WOMEN SEEM TO RECOGNIZE.

Among the numerous small items which make up the sum total of a good or bad effect, as far as matters of dress are concerned, there is one in particular that many women entirely overlook; that is, the "style" of their hands.

Now there is something very definite about the hand. It is so full of personality, so closely connected with the individual characteristics of its owner, that those who are wise realize it requires setting off to advantage just as much as the face and figure, and therefore its special attributes must be studied, and the sleeves and cuffs worn made to harmonize.

Long, slender hands look their best set off with dainty white ruffles or falling chiffon frills, while hands that are squarely made and of a workman-like and capable appearance look out of place amid soft lace, the plain sleeve and turn-back cuff suiting them far better.

There are people who should never on any account wear short or three-quarter length sleeves, and yet how often one notices the entire effect of a gown spoiled by carelessness in this respect!

Some people, again, suffer from bad circulation, resulting in red and unsightly hands—a defect that is very hard to cure—and this redness is emphasized by white ruffles and cuffs, but will not appear to nearly such a disadvantage if black or dark frills are worn.

Hands are always an interesting study, and it is a pity that in these busy days they are not often accorded the care and attention bestowed on them when our grandmothers were young and white and shapely hands were considered a very important part of a woman's beauty.

Though manicure and constant massage and such like take up more time than the average woman can daily indulge in, she can always see that her hands are suitably becoiffed, a detail
the importance of which, once studied, she will quickly realize.

TURN TO THE RIBBON MODEL

Plateau Hat Suffering From Overpopularity, and is Gradually Being Discarded.

Like all fashions easy to copy, the plateau hat is already suffering from overpopularity. In those districts where cheapness is essential the little milliner is turning out plateau hats in the poorest quality of straw, it is true,
and with the most impossible flowers
at a few dollars each. As the death knell of the plateau hat has thus been rung, the more exclusive houses are turning their attention to the ribbon model, a hat which needs the master hand to drape its graceful crown and brim.

From France the new ribbon hats are arriving their plaited crowns of rich moire, adorned with fantastic yet beautiful bows, being arranged in the most artistic colors and in the most intricate manner.

One model made entirely of blue moire ribbon about an inch wide has a four-cornered brim edged with an upstanding fold of gold lace, and loops of the ribbon are perched gracefully on the crown.

SLIP FOR THE BABY'S PILLOW

Dainty Carriage Convenience May Be Made With Two Handkerchiefs and a Little Lace.

The baby which is taken out for a daily airing in its carriage needs several slips for the carriage pillow. A covering that is dainty enough for any baby can be made of two handkerchiefs and a few yards of valenciennes lace. If one is skilled in embroidery the word "Baby" may be embroidered on one section of the pillow.

One handkerchief should be cut in two to form the ends of the pillow and the remaining handkerchief should be used for the center section. Measure the sides of the handkerchief in order to find out just how many yards of lace will be needed. The edge can be finished with lace.

Writing Cases.

Useful, indeed, for the traveler is one of the writing cases of colored morocco. Aside from the blotting pad, firmly held in place by the triangular leather corners, there are four gas-set pockets for stationery and a stamp pocket. A bone-handled pencill is fitted into a leather loop holder, and there is an extra loop for a fountain pen. The case is provided with a handle, so that it is easily carried,
and it also has a lock and key.

Variety for Afternoon Wear.

There are two types of afternoon
gowns this summer, the more simple kind of sprigged Dolly Varden materials, frilly to a degree, and the afternoon dance frock which is of more pretentious fabric.

Difference in Lives.
It costs to send. To give a message to the world, to express one's person-selfish lives are only receivers, while those lives which bless mankind have given of their substance and of their selves.

Backache is a Warning

Doctors always give fair warning when anything is going wrong inside the body. When warned of kidney weakness by an aching back or disordered urination, give the kidneys prompt help and avoid more serious troubles.

Kidney trouble is a dangerous thing, because the kidneys are the blood filters, and the kidneys soon upset the healthiest of us, causing rheumatic attacks, gravel, dropsy and Bright's disease.

Doan's Kidney Pills is a most reliable kidney remedy. Doan's are used successfully all over the civilized world and publicly recommended by thousands of grateful people.

An Ohio Case.

Mrs. Irene Tudor, 318 N. Clegg St., Hellefontaine, Ohio, says: "Kidney complaint was fast getting its grip on me and the pain in my back were almost unbearable. I had awful dizzy spells and lost my strength and energy. I was pale and the kidney secretions were irregular in passage. When I had almost given up, Dr. Doan's Kidney Pills cured me. I can't be too grateful."

Teacher's Boast.

A teachers' meeting was in progress and it was decided that the more difficult subjects should come in the morning later in the day. History was in, and those that required less application on the list, and Miss Wheeler, the young teacher, protested.

"But it certainly is easier than science or mathematics," the principal insisted.

"As I teach it," replied the young teacher, "no subject could be more difficult and confusing."—Lippincott's Magazine.

ERUPTION OVER CHILD'S BODY

Route No. 3, Box 67, Little Falls, Minn.—"Our little boy was taken sick with a fever and after the fever he broke out with a sore eruption all over his body. We could get nothing to help him. The sores were large and red and bleeding. They started with blisters as if he were burned and when they broke they would bleed and they itched so that he could not sleep for some time. We had him all tied up with bandages and then we had to soak them off every day."

"We bought a cake of Cuticura Soap and a box of Cuticura Ointment, which soon gave him relief. Now he is as well as can be for in three weeks he was all healed by the Cuticura Soap and Ointment." (Signed) George Wolters, Jan. 29, 1914.

UNION MIGHT BE POSTPONED

Matter-of-Fact Serelda's Two Good Reasons for Hesitating About Settling this Day.

The Blanks' maid of all work was a practical young woman of about twenty-seven years. One day when her mistress was making some plans for the future the matter-of-fact Serelda said:

"I don't know, ma'am. It might be that I won't be with you much longer, an' then maybe I will. I ain't sure yet."

Knowing that a young man had called a good many times to see Serelda, her mistress said:

"Are you thinking of getting married, Serelda?"

Without the least show of embarrassment or enthusiasm Serelda said:

"Well, yes, to tell the truth, I am. Then again I don't know if I will. I've got a good place here with good pay, and he's such a fool maybe I'll stay on with you!"

The wise wife increased her hold on her husband by holding her tongue occasionally.

POET LAUREATE CALLS THE ENGLISH TO ARMS

London.—Robert Bridges, the poet laureate, contributes the following verses to the London Times:

Thou careless swave!
Thou peacemaker, fight!
Stand England for honor
And God guard the right.

Thy mirth lay aside,
Thy cavil and play,
The foe is upon thee
And grave is the day.

The monarch Ambition
Has harnessed his slaves,
But the folk of the ocean
Are free as the waves.

For Peace thou art armed,
Thy freedom to hold,
Thy courage as iron,
Thy faith as gold.

Through fire, air and water
Thy trial must be.
But they that love life best
Die gladly for thee.

The love of their mothers
Is strong to command,
The fate of their fathers
Is might to their hand.

Much suffering shall cleanse thee,
But thou through the flood
Shalt win to salvation
To heav'n through blood.

Up careless Awake!
Ye peacemakers, fight!
England stands for honor
God defend the right.

IS PIVOTAL FIGURE IN DEFENSE OF WAR

Sir Edward Grey Becomes Man of the Hour in Europe.

British Foreign Minister, Little Known Personally, Has Great Political Instincts and Talent and Tremendous Reserve Power.

London.—The efforts of Sir Edward Grey to preserve the peace of Europe have made the English foreign minister the great outstanding figure of the day. There are other remarkable figures in the foreign offices of Europe, but none of greater ability than he who presides over the British foreign office.

The name of Sir Edward Grey has been on every tongue of late, and no man in all Britain has been more in the limelight. And yet, strange to say, there is no man in public life today who is so little known personally. He is a potent, a mysterious and uncertain figure, known to few, understood by fewer; cool, self-possessed and showing no traces whatever of the crisis through which he has been passing.

The grandson of Sir George Grey, who was several times home secretary, and the grandnephew of Earl Grey of reform-bill fame, Sir Edward, whose father was equerry to King Edward when the latter was prince of Wales, inherited political instincts and talent. He had scarcely attained his majority when he became private secretary of Sir Evelyn Baring (Lord Cromer), and he acted in the same capacity to Mr. Childers at the time the latter was chancellor of the exchequer.

Entering parliament at the age of twenty-three years, Sir Edward made some stir at an early period in his career by his independence on the question of Irish land purchases. He was only thirty when Mr. Gladstone appointed him, in 1892, under secretary for foreign affairs. As his chief was in the house of lords, his position was important, and it became particularly delicate when Lord Rosebery succeeded to the premiership. Sir Edward Grey had to expound a policy with which he was suspected he did not always sympathize.

Even those who have had no special opportunity of testing Sir Edward Grey's capacity are impressed by the appearance which he gives of reserve power. Behind that long, thin face with the high cheek bones they think there must be deep forces. Instead of thrusting himself forward, he has had to be pushed. Competent observers long ago discerned that he possessed the qualities of a leader. Fifteen years more ago there were many who predicted that some day, if his ambition burned brightly enough, Sir Edward would take the chief place on the green benches.

Sir Edward Grey has two very peculiar mannerisms, one of gesture, the other of speech. The gesture is to put his right hand behind his neck and to scratch his head. The mannerism of speech is that he repeats frequently the same words when he comes to the end of a sentence. Although his style is restrained, his speeches are usually impressive and effective. Once he was announced to address a meeting of northern miners who were keen radicals. Instead of giving them a slashing barangan, Sir Edward spoke sedately on foreign affairs, yet his manner was such that the audience listened with deep interest.

KAISER'S ONLY WAY TO WIN

He Must Isolate and Whip Russia and Then Return for the Assault on France.

Germany must possess herself of the triangle, Warsaw, St. Petersburg and Moscow, or she will lose, writes a military expert in Washington. If she controls that triangle there will be but one German empire in the world, and it will comprise practically the whole of Europe. If she loses in her effort to control it, there will be neither a German nor an Austrian empire when the war ceases.

With Germany today it is a fight for existence. There is only one way to make that fight, and that is to isolate Russia from her allies and then whip her thoroughly. Russia whipped, Austria can guard her while the victorious German army returns for the assault on France. If Russia is victorious, the French will be victorious, for in war, as in everything else, success breeds success and failure breeds failure.

Views of M. Ollivier, Prime Minister of Napoleon III.

He Contended It Was Not the Most Fearful of All Fatalities, and That It Was Not Without Its Ample Compensation.

Herewith is a defense of war by M. Ollivier, prime minister of Napoleon III. He was charged with the responsibility of declaring the war of 1870, which responsibility, he said in his speech of July 15, 1870, he accepted "with a light heart." This French view of the justification and righteousness of war is translated from M. Ollivier's great work "L'Empire Liberal."

"The Maitre believes war to be divine," Proudhon says that it is the most inextinguishable expression of our conscience, the act which definitively and in spite of the impure influence which mingles with it, honors us most before creation and before the eternal.

"Of all the fatalities against which suffering humanity contends, war is not the most fearful and its evils are not without ample compensations. Like the pioneers, who open to light and air the virgin forests by blows of the ax, great generals, the privileged heroes of history, by arms open the way for civilization, disciplining inferior people, wiping out degenerate nations."

"Where war is not feared, there is formed a spirit of virility, a hardihood which engenders sublime inspirations; genius is brought to light more by the clash of arms than by the clatter of spindles."

"Men, accustomed to place above all other considerations the idea of sacrifice, of voluntary self-immolation, surpass even in art, commerce and industry those who are absorbed in the productive but belittling cares by which granaries are filled. Repose begets cowardice. Generous sentiments arise from perils confronted. When one never has to defend his country ideas of honor degenerate, and a nation sinks into an ignoble race, incapable of heroic resistance and of the energy of sacrifice," says Chateaubriand.

"Every people, who, lacking the notion of sacrifice, does not prefer the glory of dying nobly to the shame of living ignobly, is doomed to subjection. The nation must be considered as already dead which is dominated by the sordid element which cries like the Athenian of Aristophanes: 'Let us drink to the limit, and have a gay life; nothing is more lovely than the stomach; thy stomach is thy father and thy mother. Virtues, embassies, the call of duty? Empty glory and vain echoes from the hound of dreams.'"

"So greatness is denied to every statesman who does not put war in the list of his means of diplomacy, and who cannot reply with vigor to weeping spirits. 'Yes, I love peace, but I have a greater detestation for insult and shame.'"

"War is divine in the sense that it is one of the indestructible laws of the human race."

"The dream of universal peace is a Utopia, and I am not certain that it would be desirable."

"It will be vain for you to submit to humiliations, to insults, to outrages, and when you suites you on one cheek to turn the other. By avoiding death on the field of battle will you escape death on the bed of agony?"

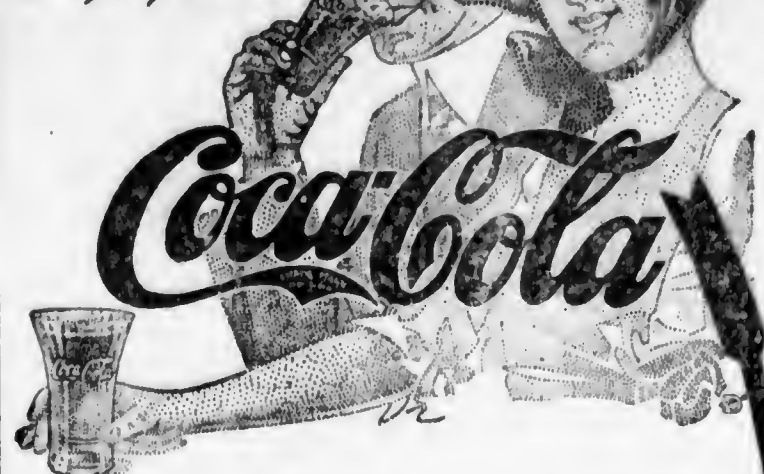

"Let us submit to the laws against which we would rebel in vain, and since war is one of those laws, let us not condemn it. Let us accept it as the noble form of necessary death, as that which leads most surely to the ascending renaissance of the best."

"Let us not seek blindly its grandeur, however. They are too mixed with calamities and tears. Let us rather employ all our efforts to escape the scourge, for it is suffering, and to all suffering it is proper to offer not only compassion, but resistance. Only when destiny imposes it upon us as a duty, let us accept it manfully at all risks and not flee from it in cowardice."

Order of Iron Cross Renewed.

Berlin.—The German emperor has renewed the Order of the Iron Cross for War. The Iron Cross is given to officers and soldiers for distinguished service in war. It was founded in the enthusiasm of the War for Liberation movement, March 10, 1813, and revived at the outbreak of the "War for Unity," against France, July 14, 1870.

The Guarantee.

William J. Burns, the famous detective, was talking in New York about the recent dropping of his name from the honorary list of Police chiefs. "It is easy," Mr. Burns said, "to read the significance of that action. Its significance is evil. It relates to certain graft exposures on my part. Yes, its significance is as evil as the clothier's guarantee."

"A young fellow went to a clothier to buy a pair of flannel pants. 'The last pair I got here shrunk,' he said. 'I was caught in the rain in them, and they shrunk something terrible. Do you guarantee that these won't shrink?'"

"Young fellow," said the dealer, "I guarantee them up to the hilt. Why, every fire hose in New York but three has squirted on them pants."

No Menace in Sanatorium.

Dr. Edward L. Trudeau, who built the first tuberculosis sanatorium in the United States in 1855, says:

"When I bought the first land on which the Adirondack Cottage sanatorium is built, I paid $25 an acre for it, but the price was then thought absurdly high. My last purchase of five acres cost me $5,000. To my knowledge, there has never been an employee who came to the sanatorium in sound health who developed tuberculosis while there; and a sanatorium can no more endanger the health of the neighborhood in which it is built, even if the residences are at its very gates, than it could if it were placed on top of a high mountain miles away from habitation."

In Demand.

A Louisville man tells of an incident during the sessions held in his city of a Sunday school convention with delegates from all the states. In answer to the roll-call of the states reports were verbally given by the various state chairmen. When Texas was called a big man stepped into the aisle and in stentorian tones exclaimed: "We represent the Imperial state of Texas. The first white woman born in Texas is still living—she has now a population of over three million." Whereupon a voice from the gallery cried out in clarion tones: "Send that woman to Idaho—we need her."
